Collins Engineers, Inc. Sponsors Quadcopter Show & Do Event

On June 10, 2017, Collins Engineers, Inc. sponsored Pathway to Adventure Council's second annual Quadcopter Show & Do event at University of Illinois' UIC forum.

Local Boy Scouts worked on different quadcopter challenges such as spot landing, payload lift, and a specialized drone obstacle course. Participating Scouts also simulated quadcopter team presentations and executed on-spot modifications while sharing their passion for technology.

Collins Engineers, Inc. set up a display to help Scouts understand the importance of unmanned aerial vehicles in engineering careers and donated their time and resources to this event.
